

Doctor Jack Kevorkian recommends Viagra™ to all his patients.

They don't call me "Doctor Death" for nothing. I know all about it. Hey, we're all going to die someday – some of us sooner than others.

If you're going to kick the proverbial bucket, why not do it in style? Millions of people die each year in beds – hospital beds. Where's the fun in that? I say, if you're going to die in bed, you might as well have a cheap blonde and an expensive bottle of wine to help you along (or, if you prefer, an expensive blonde and a cheap bottle of wine).

That's where Viagra can help. If you're likely to have a heart attack and are tired of living anyway, one pill can help to make the way you "go" an experience to die for!

You see, when you take a Viagra pill, that stiffness you feel isn't rigor mortis (that comes later). Trust me, you'll enjoy it!

Dr. Jack Kevorkian

What a way to go!